C. W. Neal is having a composition pavement laid in front of his property on North Main St.

Mr. John G. Pursel is now located at Lenado, Pitkin county, Colorado, where he is engaged in mining, and is doing well.

Sunday, October 25, 1891, will long be remembered as the first day for eighteen years that not a drop of rain fell in any part of the United States.

J. G. Freeze, Esq. has built an addition to his office on Centre street. It is now the finest law office in this section.

The Electric Light Company have received a number more poles which they will soon place in position for lighting the streets.

Mrs. I. B. Rupert has had her residence on Centre street re-painted. It presents a fine appearance, and adds much to her already beautiful home.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, will be held at Mrs. Lloyd Sharpless' on Tuesday, November 17th, at three o'clock.

Edward Eyer passed a successful examination before the State Board of Pharmacy. He has been a faithful pupil at Moyer Bros. drug store for the past two years.

The workmen upon the paving about the new Court House are making rapid progress this week. The front is about completed and work advancing about the sides.

The flag which was presented some time ago by the American Mechanics to the High School of Bloomsburg, was unfurled last Saturday, and will float over the school building at all times during fair weather.

The ministers, together with two laymen from the various Congregations of the churches of Bloomsburg, have united in securing an evangelist who will be in this place about February 1st and will hold a series of services.

The members of the Excelsior Literary Society of the High School will hold an interesting and enjoyable entertainment on next Friday afternoon. The public are cordially invited to attend.

Work has been suspended at the boat yards at Espy. For some time past the men have only had work on half-time. Now there is no work at all and the outlook is a gloomy one for the winter.

The First National Bank has had erected a high wire screen in front of their counters. It is an absolute safeguard against any attempt at bank robbery. The wire work extends almost to the ceiling, and is so high that no one would attempt to climb it.

At the service in St. Paul's Church last Sunday morning the Rector spoke of the Memorial Tower recently completed and given to the Parish, and made a prayer of dedication, as is the custom of the Church when so important an addition is made to the Church Building.

The two operattas, "Jack the Giant Killer" and Cinderella" which were to have been re-produced in the Opera House Tuesday evening has been postponed on account of the sickness of those in charge of the drilling. The postponement was a great disappointment to many.

Come and see, and if you are not prepared to buy, leave your order.

WM. F. BODINE'S OPEN LETTER TO W. KRICKBAUM, AND TO THE VOTERS OF COLUMBIA COUNTY.

Krickbaum wants to know who his backers were for Kostenbauder. He thinks it is due the voters as well as "Kosty." In the first place I would say it is none of Krickbaum's business who they were, I was straight for Kostenbauder, and a great many of the best thinking democrats were of the same opinion as I was; you can see by the vote of the county that they were disgusted with the way the Primary Elections were, and have been run, and would not vote at all. There has been a falling off in the county at this last election of over 2000, and in this town of over 140 Democratic voters. These voters could not conscientiously vote for Mourey nor would not. Now I think the voters ought to know what the reason is; why, it is this: All the corrupt means that are used in getting the candidates nominated is disgusting to good honest voters, and they will not come out to vote, and if this man Krickbaum keeps on a few years more as he has been doing, there will not be any democratic majority in the county, nor there should not be. It is a shame the way he has conducted himself and the affairs of this county. In the first place by free bars and the full use of money. I saw men at the delegate election, step up to the polls and demand their money, for their votes, before they would vote. Shame on men who will uphold such low means as these. But let us go back a few years and let the voters see what is the reason of this all. I well know when politics were conducted apparently honest in this county, and all was quiet and peaceable. But since this man Krickbaum has got into the county offices, there has been nothing but strife and contention all through. First you hear of $500 stolen bonds, then of shaving sheep orders, saying no money in the treasury, when there never was a time since the Dog Tax was levied, but what there was lots of money in the treasury. There have been men told me, when they handed in their orders they were told no money in the treasury, and they were compelled to get advice from lawyers, then the money was paid all right Now, since he is out of office, you hear no complaints of this kind, all is paid in full and lots in the treasury; and then, too, he is always "kicking" up strife among the officials of the county and misrepresenting things. He has charged Snyder and Campbell with over-charging and taking money from the county, that did not belong to them, when there is not one word of truth in it. He also charges Ex-Treasurer Herring with having $500 of the State money, when he has a receipt in full. He is always finding fault with the last Board of Commissioners, just because he could not control them and get all the printing to do. Why, he is guilty of so many dishonest things that it would take a man a week to write all. When he was in possession of the Court House and had the handling of the books, such as Clerk, Deputy Treasurer, Deputy Sheriff all at one time, then it was he had things his own way; then he had money to lend, but since he is out of that position he has had to borrow, and at that time he really was a disgrace to the county, making a rum shop out of the vault and a gambling house of the offices and other ways using it. I have nothing personally against John Mourey, he is a genial, kind hearted fellow, but he has been in Krickbaum's clutches so long, it is him that has brought these things against Mourey. It was Krickbaum that put that barrel of whiskey in the jail when Mourey was sheriff before, to corrupt the good morals of the community. It was Krickbaum that got Mourey to throw a note in the bank to get $300, with his name and Stephen Pohe's name as endorsers, to buy the delegates and use them against A. K. Smith. It was Krickbaum that bolted the ticket against W. H. Snyder and used his Smut Machine for Kinter. It was Krickbaum who tried to sell C. R. Buckalew out for Governor. Tell the tax-payers too, how it came Judge Murphy got such a small vote. Then tell them how Mourey got such a large vote, when you claimed to be for Murphy. Please explain to the satisfaction of the dear tax payers. Tell Judge Murphy to come to me, and I will tell him how it was, and I also can tell Kostenbauder how it came that he got cut so in the vote, as he did; and as for the Court House officials, you never heard one of them say vote for Kost'y. They are a class of as fine men as ever were elected in Columbia Co. Tell the dear tax payers how you went to one of the highest officials in the county and told him with tears in your eyes that they were going to drop Mourey and vote for Kost'y and that it would hurt Murphy, please explain. I guess you were afraid that you would lose that big judgment. You Deceiver. You talk about Boss Quay! He is a bright light beside you. You talk about Sullivan and Luzerne going Democratic if they had one man like you in each county, they would soon lose their majority. These are some of the reasons that the vote was not out, and that they would not vote. My backers were some of the best men in the county, some of them have told you to your face that if you had your just dues, you would behind prison bars. In the newspaper controversy between you and W. H. Snyder, you remember when you put on a bold front, and came out in your paper No. 1 and 2 and then stopped, when W. H. Snyder called you a liar, thief and perjurer, and said if you had your just dues you would be behind prison bars, and you swallowed it all, not like a man but a sneak thief, why did you not come out at him with No 3? I myself have had some experience with you, and I have lots of affidavits against you in a writ of quo warranto, and you followed me up and got contra affidavits of the same men. Please tell the dear tax-payers how you did it, but please be careful how you tell it, for you know that I know. Shame, shame on you. Get on your knees and ask God to forgive you.

W. F. Bodine.

THE OUTLOOK.

Almost every traveling man you meet complains of the stringency of the money market. The people of Bloomsburg, however, are fortunate that all of her manufacturing industries are running on full time. The Bloomsburg Woolen Mill, the Carpet Mill, Silk Mill, School Furnishing Company, Bloomsburg Car Co., Harman & Hasserts, Machinists, together with the furnaces and iron foundries all give continued employment to our workmen. It is true the wages are not what they should be, and the workmen earn but a living, and have nothing to lay aside in case of sickness. We, however, have reason to be thankful that we are so much more highly favored than neighboring towns, where the works are closed and no employment given. This result is brought about by our own enterprising citizens who have advanced money as inducements for manufacturers to locate here. During the past ten years, through the efforts of our own people manufactories have been erected that represent a capital of over $500,000. One of the latest acts of our people is the location of the brass tube works, which has now begun operation, and the Bloomsburg Furniture Factory, which will soon be built, and ready for work. Looking forward now, we can assure the laboring man that he can obtain constant work during the winter. A number of dwellings are being built and many repaired, which still further affords places for labor. Traveling men visiting our town report it one of the best in the state, and with a bright prospect of soon becoming a city of great importance. Our factories should pay better wages which would still further help our rapidly growing city.

EAST BENTON.

Lew M. Creveling, of Van Camp, one of Fishingcreek's staunchest democrats, is seriously ill. Pneumonia is the trouble.

Hon. James McHenry has just returned from the city. He is the old standby in the merchandise trade. He has laid in a full assortment of goods.

Since the whole of Luzerne county's Democratic ticket was elected, there is talk of raising another hickory pole at Cambria, as the one raised a year ago was bored down. Garman, the District Attorney elect if possible, will be secured to speak on the occasion.

Alonzo Albertson will locate his steam sawmill in our neighborhood before long. The first and second growth of timber is about exhausted. They will soon have to begin on the third and fourth growth, then we may expect fine lumber.

D. H. Creveling and Miss Lavera Holdren were married at the residence of H. J. Clark last Saturday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. A. Heilman, pastor of the Lutheran church. Mr. Creveling is building a dwelling house on First street where the couple will soon reside.

The government Navy Yards at Brooklyn, for the past few weeks has presented an appearance of great activity. Work was continued for seven days in the week, building the war vessels Miantonomah and Atlanta. These vessels are being built to be in readiness if war is declared with Chili.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Regular meeting of council held with all members present.

Mr. Rhodes moved that the motion passed at a previous meeting fixing the price at 30 cents per ton for hauling stone on Market street, be amended to read 35 cents per ton. Seconded and agreed to.

President Harman presented the resignation of John Cadman, Commissioner of highways. Resignation was upon motion accepted. Mr. Allen nominated Robert Penman to fill the vacancy. Roll was called and Robert Penman unanimously chosen Commissioner of highways.

Sec. II.—That the polls shall be reasonably straight, and with the fixtures so to be erected shall be put in a safe and substantial manner and shall be as neat in appearance as may be, and shall be located by the street Committee, or the street Commissioner under their direction, in such manner as not to obstruct said streets, lanes and alleys in their ordinary and customary use and shall be erected, maintained and cared for at the cost and charge of said company.

This fall has been one of the mildest we have experienced for years. The weather has been unusually fine. The old residents are interfering with our enjoyment by the suggestion that a mild fall indicates a severe winter. The coal dealers no doubt smile at such suggestions, but the day laborer upon whom the severe winters fall most heavily dread the approach of winter.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Men's Gospel meetings every night this week at 7:30 for just one hour. A hearty invitation is extended to you. Next Sunday at 2 o'clock, p. m. Mr. Sterling Dickson, President of the Berwick Young Men's Christian Association will give a ringing talk to the young men of Bloomsburg. Let us pack the Hall, and give Mr. Dickson a warm reception. The singing is going to be exceptionally fine. Come and hear it.

The Young Men's Christian Association in London, generally known as "the parent Association," was organized in 1844 through the efforts of George Williams, an earnest Christian young man, twenty-three years of age, and at that time a junior clerk in a large dry goods establishment, of which he has since become the head.

Read these words of statesmen, clergymen, jurists, and business men, concerning the Young Men's Christian Association.

Hon. Grover Cleveland, when President of the United States, in his address at the laying of the corner stone of the Association building in Kansas City, said:

"All will admit the supreme importance of that honesty and fixed principle which rests upon Christian motives and purposes; and all will acknowledge the sad and increasing temptations which beset our young men and lure them to their destruction. To save these young men, oftentimes deprived of the restraints of home, from degradation and ruin, and to fit them for usefulness and honor, these Associations have entered the field of Christian effort and are pushing their noble work. When it is considered that the subjects of their efforts are to be the active men for good or evil in the next generation, more worldly prudence dictates that these Associations should be aided and encouraged.

Their increasing and flourishing condition reflect the highest honor upon the good men who have devoted themselves to this work, and demonstrate that the American people are not entirely lacking in appreciation of its value. Twenty years ago, but one of these Associations owned a building, and that was valued at $11,000. To-day over one hundred such buildings, valued at more than $1,000,000 beautify the different cities of our land and beckon our young men to lives of usefulness."

Mr. Dwight L. Moody, Evangelist, said: "When asked if I believe in the Young Men's Christian Association, I say, I do, with all my heart. It has, under God, done more in developing me for Christian work than any other agency."

Watch for more next week.

The funeral of Katharine Neal Elwell, whose death was announced in last week's issue, took place in Christ Church, Towanda, on Tuesday morning at half past ten o'clock. Private services were held at ten o'clock at the house. Every seat in the large church was filled. The public schools were closed for the occasion, and the entire community seemed to be in mourning.

No similar event in Towanda for many years, has so merited and received the sympathy and regret of the people almost universally as the death of this lovely girl of eighteen years. Only a few hours before she breathed her last did she know that the end was coming, but she was ready and willing to go. It would be intrusive to invade the sanctity of that home, and attempt to describe what occurred at the bedside of that dying christian girl. Suffice it to say that those who witnessed it, pronounced it the most solemn, impressive and beautiful scene of the kind, within their experience. Conscious to the last moment, she received the Holy Communion, and her last hours were full of comfort and consolation to the heart broken parents, whose cup of bitterness is full to overflowing in the death of their beloved daughter and only remaining child. The services were conducted by Rev. W. E. Wright, of Elmira. former rector of Christ Church, assisted by Rev. Mr. Daw, present rector. The burial took place in Riverside Cemetery and the remains were laid by the side of those of her brother, who died a year ago last month at the age of sixteen.

The floral offerings were very numerous, and exquisitely beautiful.

Among the relatives present at the funeral, were Judge and Mrs. Elwell, Mr. and Mrs. N. U. Funk, C. W. Neal, Miss Grace Neal, R. C. Neal and Geo. E. Elwell; and Mrs. C. E. Smith of Plymouth, Wisconsin.

Mr. Abram J. Kline, one of the oldest inhabitants of Fishingcreek township died at his residence in Stillwater Tuesday, at the advanced age of 90 years. Funeral services will be held Saturday.

PERSONAL.

E. S. Case of Espy was in town Tuesday.

Mr. I. S. Kuhn brought several car loads of cattle from Buffalo Tuesday.

Mrs. Emma Kirby of Mauch Chunk is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Kuhn.

Mr. Camden Mears returned from his visit to the Southern Exposition at Raleigh on Saturday last.

Mr. P. Freeze has remembered us kindly during the past week with a bountiful supply of apples.

Frank Miller came home from Easton Monday, to attend the funeral of his grandfather, S. H. Miller.

Mrs. G. E. Moyer of Williamsport, has returned to Bloomsburg and will make this her home. Her husband is in the employ of J. G. Wells. They are boarding at present at Mrs. Humphrey's.

STEPHEN H. MILLER.

Another old resident has gone to his reward. Stephen H. Miller died at the residence of his son, I. K. Miller, on Sunday morning, after a brief illness, being taken sick the previous Sunday. His age was seventy two years. Mr. Miller was born in Mifflin township, and lived there until 1855 when he was elected sheriff of Columbia county, and moved to Bloomsburg. At the expiration of his term of office he engaged in the mercantile business, and followed it until within a few years, part of the time alone, and for some years with I. K. Miller under the firm name of S. H. Miller & Son. Their store was for many years at the corner of Main and Centre, where Lockard's building now stands.

Mr. Miller was a man of pleasant disposition, a good citizen, and a faithful member of the Presbyterian church. His wife died about eight years ago. C. W. Miller Esq., and I. K. Miller, his sons, survive him. The funeral was held at the residence on Tuesday afternoon, and was conducted by Rev. I. E. Patterson.

Floyd Knorr, the 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Knorr of 232 North Walnut street, Youngstown, Ohio, had a narrow escape from death Saturday of last week. He was standing on a railroad track in company with other boys loooking at a party who had shot an owl, when a passenger train came suddenly around a curve. He was along side of the rail and just close enough to be hit by the train which threw him about 30 feet. The train stopped and was run back to the place of accident where the boy was found unconscious, with his arm broken below the shoulder and dislocation at the elbow. He was removed to his home, and will no doubt fully recover.

Mr. Jacob Deifenbach on Thursday showed us some apples, upon the branches, from an apple tree that produced a second crop. The tree blossomed a second time in August, and about a peck of fruit was the result of the second growth. The apples were much smaller than the first crop, and were not quite mature. This is the first instance we have heard of a second growth of apples in any part of Pennsylvania. Judging from this effort, we must conclude that our season is too short to make a success of a double crop of fruit.

Messrs. Kumer & Shaffer have formed a co-partnership for the purpose of laying down artificial stone pavements, foundations, steps, floors, &c. Mr. Kumer has had six years experience in the work and has been employed with Mr. Krouse who has laid most of the paving in the town. He is an experienced and careful workman. Mr. Shaffer is a successful contractor and builder. They should receive a liberal patronage.

One of the most interesting meetings ever held by the Woman's Missionary Society of the Lutheran church was held last Monday evening. The occassion was the packing of a large missionary box with clothing, fruits, groceries, &c., to be sent to a poor missionary in Nebraska. The faces of the ladies was proof that "It is more blessed to give than to receive". By a careful estimate the contents were worth about $150.00.

The changes are not numerous but are all in the direction of improved facilities. New time tables will be ready for distribution on and after Saturday, 14th instant.

CHEATING IN HORSE BLANKETS

Nearly every pattern of 5/A Horse Blanket is imitated in color and style. In most cases the imitation looks just as good as the genuine, but it hasn't the warp threads, and so lacks strength, and while it sells for only a little less than the genuine it isn't worth one-half as much. The fact that 5/A Horse Blankets are copied is strong evidence that they are THE STANDARD, and every buyer should see that the 5/A trade mark is sewed on the inside of the Blanket.

The First American Labor Champion.

Few people of the present day and generation know that the first systematic struggle in Massachusetts to reduce the hours of labor was suggested, planned, and fought by that white-haired veteran, General Butler, forty years ago. The unflinching courage with which the slim young lawyer, alone, surrounded by enemies, and deserted and antagonized by his friends, stood forth in the face of all opposition and proclaimed the rights of the laborer, claims the admiration of every friend of reform.

When young Butler was ten years old, his widowed mother moved from Deerfield, N. H., to the new town of Lowell, then only a village.

The place grew so rapidly that in 1836 it was the second city in New England and the largest city in the Union whose business was solely manufacturing, and whose population, men, women and children, were daily engaged in mills. A day's labor in the factories was then thirteen and a half hours. The time of work was from six in the morning until seven.

A rule established among the superintendents of the different organizations very effectively black-listed any operative who, for any reason or cause, left the employ of one of the sister establishments, and unless such operative could give a good reason and show a document from the first employer, it was almost impossible to obtain work in any of the other establishments.

Young Butler early made the acquaintance of Dr. Hildreth, whose accomplished daughter, by the way, he later married. This able physician, a man of most conservative views, who had no connection with the mills in Lowell, or with the operatives, save when called in as medical adviser, explained to the young lawyer that thirteen and a half hours a day for six days in the week, with only thirty minutes to eat their dinner (which could not readily be digested when the laborer was at work,) as work requiring the most constant attention was a great strain upon the lives of the operatives. While it was not immediately destructive, it certainly permitted the survival of the fittest only, and in the end deteriorated the physical strength of the whole population.

Among such people, men, women, and children, who were toiling from morn till night, six days in the week, who did not have a chance for recreation or education, from whom was taken the most sacred right of American citizens to seek employment where they chose, young Butler grew up. Convinced of the crying wrong that was being perpetrated, he determined if at any time he should be a representative of his state, his first attention should be given to the amelioration of the condition of the working people, not only of his own city, but of the country.

He gathered round him a few men of like mind, but, unfortunately for him, not of like spirit and courage, and the struggle began. A more unpopular movement at that time could not have been thought of. The manufacturers loudly denounced the movement, and the stockholders would not listen to anything that might reduce their big dividends. The matter was placed before them from a philanthropic standpoint: that they were using up in their business the health and life of their operatives, destroying their constitutions, which destruction was being transmitted to their children. This they naturally did not admit, saying: "The operatives need not stay here; they are at liberty to go anywhere else they choose. The stockholders consider it their duty to give the people as cheap calico as can possibly be made.'

As he was always a champion of fair play and equal rights, and as he instinctively took up the cause of the oppressed, he naturally became the leading spirit in this great struggle which resulted, a few years later, in the passing of the eleven hour law. He was a candidate for the legislature on the so-called ten hour ticket, and fought the battle with all the vigor and tact which was inborn in him. He made speeches in many parts of the state wherever he could get time away from his law business. The manufacturers' newspapers exhausted all their wrath upon him. There was no vile name that could be used that was not liberally bestowed upon him. But his marvelous energy, perseverance, tact and indomitable will, finally produced the effect that has been the opening of a new era for the American working man.

On Monday, a week preceding the election, a notice was placed on one of the mill gates, as follows:—

"Whoever, employed by this corporation, votes the Ben Butler ten hours ticket on Monday next will be discharged."

That evening a meeting of the ten hour candidates was called. Consternation had seized them all. Some of them were working men, and others were contractors for the corporation. They all lost courage and were ready to give up. Upon the request of Benj. F. Butler, he was given unrestricted rights to do anything in the matter he pleased. He issued an order to the working men of Lowell to attend a meeting on the following Wednesday evening at eight o'clock in the City Hall, to hear an address by Col. Benj. F. Butler. He was then in command of the local militia. No man could be found to sign this call, and therefore it was issued without a signature. Hand bills were circulated everywhere in Lowell. To say that the city was in a ferment would be a tame expression. The hall was so crammed with people that the speaker had to be passed in over the heads of the multitude. Gen. Butler says, "I was then of lighter weight than I am now. They picked me up and rolled me over their heads to the platform, where I found myself in a somewhat disturbed state of apparel."

After prayer by a local clergyman, Col. Butler began his speech with his unwonted calmness amid such breathless silence as falls upon an assembly when the question in debate concerns their dearest interest, honor, livelihood and home. It would take too much space here to give his entire speech, which will be found in his forthcoming book, but he began by saying that he was not a revolutionist, and he believed that the notice posted in the mills was not authorized, but some underling had done it. The owners of the mills, he believed, were men too wise and too prudent to authorize a measure which would absolutely extinguish government and invite, justify and necessitate anarchy. For a tyranny less monstrous than this the men and women of Massachusetts had cast off their allegiance to Great Britian and plunged into a chaos of revolution. The directors of the mills of Lowell could not help but note that the sons stood ready at any minute to do what their sires had done before them. "If," he continued, "men shall be deprived of the means of earning their bread, they having voted as their consciences direct, then woe to Lowell."

Those who have heard Gen. Butler speak can form an idea of the tremendous force with which he could utter words like these. He is capable of infinite wrath, and at that occasion his whole being was stirred to its depth.

The audience was so powerfully moved that the cry arose for the burning of the town that very night, and there was even the beginning of a movement towards the doors, but the speaker concluded with the solemn appeal to every person present to vote as his judgement and conscience directed, with an utter disregard for personal consequences, and sent them home with the charge to do nothing and to say nothing that in any way could give the enemy hold upon them. He knew as a lawyer where he stood, and if it must come to force, it must come upon the invitation of the manufacturers. He said he did not think the officers would call upon the militia, as they, the members of the meeting, were the militia, and he was their commander.

The meeting adjourned in the greatest excitement which broke out as the people came into the streets. Expressions of what ought to be done were everywhere heard, so that Col. Butler saw, at that time, he would hardly be able to control the masses. Knots of men gathered at the corners of the streets, and he spent hours visiting them and asking them to maintain order, and so the night passed off quietly.

The proprietors of the mill perceived the dangerous storm that was brewing, and the next morning the notices were taken from the mill gates. The election passed away peacefully, and the ten hour men elected.

Almost the entire second chapter of his book will be devoted to the former existing conditions of the working men, a subject of which it is hardly possible in these few lines to give an intelligent idea.

The above is given by A. M. Thayer & Co., of Boston, the publishers of Gen. Benj. F. Butler, and is given with his consent.

Deafness Can't Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

That Little Tickling

In your throat, which makes you cough once in a while and keeps you constantly clearing your throat, arises from catarrh, and as catarrh is a constitutional disease the ordinary cough medicines all fail to hit the spot. What you need is a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Many people who have taken this medicine for scrofula, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and other troubles, have been surprised that it should cure this troublesome cough. But to know the actual cause of the cough is to solve the mystery. Many cases of consumption can be traced back to the neglect of some such slight affection as this. Consumption can be controlled in its early stages, and the effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla in purifying the blood, building up the general health, and expelling the scrofulas taint which is the cause of catarrh and consumption, has restored to perfect health many persons on whom this dreaded disease seemed to have a firm hold.

SKEDADDLE

The term here given is one which was supposed to have been coined during the late war. It is claimed, however, that it is an old word revived, perhaps of Swedish origin. Be this as it may, there is certainly no word in the English language that more forcibly expresses the action of certain pathogenic microbes which may have found their way into the blood, after the administration of Swift's Specific. Finding this sanguineous medium to warm, so to speak, for their comfort, they skedaddle through the pores of the skin, leaving the system intact. Not only does S. S. S. cause the elimination of the said microbes and the poison produced thereby, but it assists in rebuilding the waste places of the system resulting from the devitalizing and disintegrating effects of the micro organisms aforesaid.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1891.

M. S. Quay has instituted legal proceedings against the American Citizen of Titusville, Pa, with the claim that they have damaged his fair fame to the extent of ten thousand dollars The Citizen does not seem to be alarmed in the matter as they publish a lengthy editorial upon the subject, and challenge Quay to prosecute it to a trial.

The Senate on Wednesday put an end to the proceedings against State Treasurer Boyer and Auditor General McCamant, by deciding that they had no jurisdiction. The vote on the resolution was strictly a party vote, all the republican senators voting for and the democrats against. It took 30 days for the Senate to find out that they had no jurisdiction, that the proceeding was unconstitutional, and yet they were sufficiently satisfied that the senate had been constitutionally called, to take their $500 each from the state treasurer. This result is what might have been expected. The officers had grossly violated their oaths of office, they were self convicted The republican senate could not whitewash them, they were too deeply dyed in wrong doing. There was no doubt of their complicity, by which the state was robbed of over one million dollars, and the senate did not dare acquit them. They therefor threw the responsibility on some one else, by voting that they have no jurisdiction.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON D C. NOV. 9. 1891.

Preposterous as it may sound it is nevertheless true that some of the most unscrupulous republicans are actually seriously entertaining the idea of stealing the seat in the Senate to which Hon. Calvin S. Brice was elected by the legislature of Ohio. As yet this movement is confined to sounding republican Senators to ascertain if they will vote to reject Senator Brice on the ground that he is not a citizen of Ohio. Those engaged in this despicable work suppose that it is a secret, and if on account of noses, they find that they cannot control enough votes to succeed in the barefaced theft, it will not be openly attempted. Fortunately the republican majority in the Senate is a small one, and some of the republican Senators are honorable enough and independent enough to do what they believe to be right, even to the extent of defying a republican caucus. It is these men that will prevent this political crime, if it is prevented. It is not known what Mr. Harrison thinks of this thing, but it is claimed that Secretary Foster is in favor of it, and that he is aiding in sounding the Senators as they arrive here. It is difficult to believe that the republicans in the Senate, much as they would like to add one more vote to their rapidly waning majority, will resort to such a method of doing it. Still, one must have a very short memory who will dare to predict to a certainty that it will not be done. But the prediction may be safely made that if it is done the honest people of this country will see that it is followed by the speedy punishment of those who are guilty. Partisanship may under certain circumstances be excused, but dishonesty never. If Senator Brice has not a clear title to his seat no member of the Senate has.

Senator Faulkner, who is a conservative and level headed man, has this to say on the Presidential outlook: "I think that if the delegation from his own State to the national convention want him nominated, Mr. Cleveland will be the nominee. But if factional differences in New York shall make it evident that no citizen of that state can secure unanimous support, the chances are that the nominee will be sought elsewhere, as it is absolutely necessary that the man nominated shall be able to carry New York State."

Representative Mills' headquarters for the Speakership campaign are already open, although the number of Congressmen in town is as yet small, but increasing with the arrival of every train. The headquarters of Messrs Crisp, McMillan and springer will be opened this week. As it is just four weeks to day to the opening of Congress the candidates for Speaker will have to hustle for all they are worth from now on. The sudden death of the son of Representative Crisp cast a momentary gloom over that gentleman's prospects, but the activity of his friends will prevent his temporary absence from the scene of action resulting in any harm to him.

Among the republicans who are in hot chase after some of the fat official plums soon to be distributed by Mr. Harrison, is ex-Speaker Keifer of unsavory memory, who is now in Washington to urge his own claims for something. It is said that he isn't overparticular as to what office shall be given him, just so there is a good, healthy salary attached to it. His chance for an office is not regarded as very good. The administration already has about all it can carry of his kind.

Mr. Blaine is very much disturbed, so his friends say, over the news from Brazil, which he fears may overturn the reciprocity agreement with that country. If the meager news we have had be true there is ample cause for his alarm, as it is certain that if the foreign influences in Brazil shall turn out to be powerful enough to destroy the republic, they will be strong enough to break up any arrangement that has a tendency to divert trade which Europe has heretofore controlled, to the United States.

There is a trepidation among the high officials of the Government service because of the belief that a shake-up is contemplated by Mr. Harrison, who thinks it will be beneficial to himself to replace some of them with better politicians and better Harrison men.

McKinley's friends here are indignant at the idea advanced by some of the Blaine men, that the Ohio man would be willing to play second fiddle to Mr. Blaine, or to anyone else. They say that McKinley's name will be presented to the national convention as a candidate for President, and that he will accept nothing else.

Gov. Boies is much talked of by democrats here, and one hears the prediction on all sides that he will be heard of when the democratic National Convention meets. Senator Palmer, of Illinois, is one of his chief eulogists.

ELECTION NOTES.

It was fitting and proper that Mr. Cleveland's thoughts upon the possible contingencies of politics should be promptly procured and published. They carry more influence than those of any other man in the United States, and the people who have followed the course of the New York campaign have noted with satisfaction his very earnest entrance into its labors and the splendid speeches he delivered. The result has justified their hopes, and their confidence in the soundness of his views and the thoroughness of his party fealty has been confirmed.

It has been a matter of constant observation also that throughout the country wherever his name has been mentioned it has evoked overwhelming applause. He states what must be the platform of the party in the coming presidential contest—to wit: Tariff reform and sound and safe money. On these questions the democrats carried New York, Iowa and Massachusetts—each with an increased majority.

The democracy should see to it, that on these two questions the coming conventions should be clear and positive. The party is in splendid fighting trim, and needs only a platform of sound political principles and competent leadership to win in the presidential election.

The campaign should begin at once. Circulate democratic documents, newspapers and ideas. Stand up and defend your party whenever and wherever you hear it assailed or attacked. Have a reason for your faith and give your party the benefit of it.

When asked for his views upon the result of the elections Mr. Cleveland said: Of course, every one has a right to put his own construction upon the result, and I am not anxious to obtrude my ideas, but it seems to me some things ought to be no longer doubtful. Any man who still thinks that tariff reform is a settled and obsolete issue, or that the importance of sound and safe money is a question upon which the people can be blinded, is either wilfully wrong or dangerously dull.

"It seems to me, too, that Democrats ought to be satisfied that a stanch adherence to the principles of their party does not require the abuse of those who show an inclination to help us.

"I very much regret the defeat of Gov. Campbell. He has been a brave and honest official. This and the splendid canvass he made entitled him to success. While the election of Flower, Russel and Boies ought to cause the utmost rejoicing among Democoats, they should not forget that with these things comes the obligation to be true to the people, honest in the advocacy of our principles and decent in all things."

Distemper is dangerous and often fatal in winter when the horse can't get green food. At this season Bull's-Head Horse and Cattle Powder is indispensable. Price 25 cents per package.

GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS—The Congress of the United States has provided for the celebration of the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America by the holding of a great International Fair, under the name and style of the "World's Columbian Exposition," in the city of Chicago, in the State of Illinois, which is to be formally dedicated on the twelfth day of October, A. D. 1892, and regularly opened to the public on the first day of May, A D. 1893, and to continue open for the period of six months;

AND WHEREAS,—In obedience to the President's proclamation, it is expected that every State in the Union and the people of every State shall contribute their due share to the success of said Exhibition, to the end that it may redound to the honor of the nation and advance its general welfare.

AND WHEREAS,—The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is specially bound, in rememberance of the generous disposition that was displayed by her sister States and many of their citizens, in her behalf and that of her principal city, when the Centennial of our National Independence was celebrated in Philadelphia, in the year A D. 1876, to do her utmost part toward making said Exposition what every true american must desire that it shall be;

AND WHEREAS,—I, ROBT. E. PATTISON, Governor of said Commonwealth, in response to the patriotic sentiment that has always characterized her people, and in accord with the laudable motive which prompted the last General Assemdly to make liberal provision "for the collection, arrangement and display of the products of the State" at the World's Columbian Exposition, do here issue this, my proclamation, calling upon the citizens thereof, without distinction of race, creed or sex, to prepare for furnishing their full portion of the interest, value and financial prosperity of said Exposition; and I do particularly request all railroad and transporation companies; all mining, manufacturing, shipbuilding and other industrial firms and corporations; all operators in and producers of natural oils and gases; all agricultural, horticultural, floricultural, botanical, geological and similar associations; all churches, schools, seminaries, colleges and universities; all historical, archæological, religious, literary and library societies; all fine art galleries, museums, and places of public instruction and amusement; all editors, publishers, printers and book-binders; all ministers, physicians and attorneys; all banks, bankers and capitalists; all painters, sculptors, architects, designers, decorators and photographers; all who produce superior butter, cheese, grain, fruits, flowers, vines, vegetables, &c.; all inventors and skilled artisans; all trades-unions and commercial organizations; all who possess articles of beauty, novelty, rarity or striking merit; all State, county and municipal offices; all trust and insurance companies; all persons in every avenue of life who may have something in their respective lines to present that is worthy of public notice and consideration, to lend their assistance in making the exhibit one that will be a source of pride to every Pennsylvanian, and a revelation to the world of the enterprise, progress and unrivaled resources of the State.

And I do further request all citizens who may wish to take part in said Exposition to communicate at an early date with Benjamin Whitman, Executive Commissioner of the Board of World's Fair Managers of Pennsylvania, at his office, in the city of Harrisburg, in order that he may be enabled to learn their views and purposes on the subject, and to aid in making such arrangements as to space and location as wil secure the best results.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at the city of Harrisburg, this ninth day of November, in the year of our [SEAL.] Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and sixteenth.

Catarrh

Is a complaint so common that comparatively few people are entirely free from it, so insidious that it gains a firm hold almost before its victims are aware of its presence, so dangerous as to seriously threaten the general health, and liable to develop into bronchitis or Consumption.

It is a mistake to consider Catarrh merely a local trouble. It is unquestionably a disease of the blood, and therefore the right way to cure Catarrh is to remove from the blood the impurities which cause and feed it. This is to be done by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, which effectually expels all traces of poison and germs of disease.

"I have been troubled for years with and have never received the least benefit from the many so-called catarrh cures. Of late I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and can honestly say that I am certainly improved. I know Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a good medicine." H. A. GEORGE, Athol, Mass.

Stuffed-up Feeling

"For years I have been troubled with that terrible disagreeable disease, Catarrh. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla with the very best results. It cured me of that continual dropping in my throat, and stuffed-up feeling." MRS. S. D. HEATH, Putnam, Conn.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength.

It's a powerful general, as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, imparting vigor and strength to the entire system. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrup or sugar to derange digestion; a legitimate medicine—not a beverage.

If you're a tired, nervous, or suffering woman, then the "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine that's guaranteed, in every case, to bring you help. If it doesn't give you satisfaction, you have your money back.

It is unfair to Mr. Buckalew to charge him with using secret means to defeat C. G. Murphy in the late election It is quite certain that the circular sent out with Mr. Buckalew's name signed to it, was of very material assistance to Mr. Murphy, and it is within our personal knowledge that Mr. Buckalew willingly offered to sign the paper as soon as his attention was directed to the circular charging Judge Murphy with treachery to him. Judge Murphy should not be held responsible for any such allegations concerning Mr. Buckalew.

Suits for men, suits for boys, and pretty litt'e suits for children at D. Lowenberg's

The movement in favor of a Constitutional Convention never had much basis upon which to stand, and what little chance it had of success was almost dissipated by the work of the nominating Conventions which selected candidates for delegates. There were of course, the names of some relatively good men on the party tickets; but the average voter in Pennsylvania would hesitate a long time before submitting the organic law of this state to the tender mercies of a good many of those who had been named as candidates for the work of revision, It is no wonder public sentiment set in so overwhelmingly against this scheme. The present Constitution has not yet been in force twenty years, and if fully lived up to it would meet every reasonable public expectation and demand.—Ashland Advocate.

Women are not slow to comprehend. They're quick. They're alive, and yet it was a man who discovered the one remedy for their peculiar ailments. The man was Dr. Pierce.

The discovery was his "Favorite Prescription"—the boon to delicate women. Why go round "with one foot in the grave," suffering in silence—misunderstood—when there's a remedy at hand that isn't an experiment, but which is sold under the guarantee that if you are disappointed in any way in it, you can get your money back by applying to its makers.

We can hardly imagine a woman's not trying it. Possibly it may be true of one or two—but we doubt it. Women are ripe for it. They must have it. Think of a prescription and nine out of ten waiting for it. Carry the news to them.

The seat of sick headache is not in the brain. Regulate the stomach and you cure it. Dr. Pierce's Pellets are the Little Regulators.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at C. A. Klein's Drug store.

A few weeks since delegates of several of the churches met at Y. M. C. A. hall and organized themselves into a union for the purpose of having quarterly union meetings to increase Christian zeal among the young people of Bloomsburg.

The first quarterly meeting will be held Monday evening Nov. 23rd in the Presbyterian church. The Union has been very fortunate in securing the services of Rev. C. H. Yatman, the noted evangelist for that evening. He is now working in Scranton. Please notice clippfngs in the paper this and next week taken from the Scranton Tribune.

The Tabernacle Service

AFTER IT WAS OVER MR. YATMAN WAS TENDERED A RECEPTION.

The great interest manifested in the Yatman revival service continues. There was hardly standing room in the Tabernacle last evening, and the line of people that sought admission to the edifice extended from the Tabernacle doors to the sidewalk. The subject of Mr. Yatman's discourse was "The Acceptance or Rejection of Christ"—a plain putting of the fact as to whether a man should save his life or lose it."

It was a solemn, earnest service and resulted in the conversion of a large number of persons, especially men. The singing of Mrs. Kress was a marked feature, especially the solo, "Building for Eternity." At the close of the service Mr. Yatman was invited to the residence of Mr William Connell, where he was met and complimented upon the work he is performing by a large number of enterprising and progressive men of the city.—Scranton Paper.

Their Votes A Tie

The contest for the office of Register of Wills in Lackawanna county has had a most peculiar termination. The popular G. A. R. man, Mr. Hopkins, is the present incumbent. His opponent was H. T. Kohler, a young German-American, and a prominent member of the P. O. S. of A.

It was generaliy thought before election that the race between these two men would be close, but no one dreamed it would result as it did. When the official count was ended Friday evening each man had 10,223 votes. During the afternoon the vote was close, sometimes one man would be ahead and then the other. Several little irregularities were discovered in the tally sheets and a number of ballot boxes were sent for and opened in court.

Two lawyers looked after the interests of either candidate, and a blot on the tally sheet, an erasure or two strokes resembling one was enough to cause a battle of tongues.

Late in the evening one of Mr. Hopkins' lawyers discovered that in one of the Carbondale districts two votes had been cast for Register more than the total number in the ward. Mayor Ritten, of Carbondale, was telegraphed to get possession of the box and tipstaves were dispatched to bring it into court.

Saturday morning, when its contents were counted, the tie was broken and an error of one vote in favor of Koehler was found. The candidates and their attorneys then held a consultation and a compromise was effected. Mr. Koehler is to take the office, hire a deputy at $800 per year and divide the profits, which amount to nearly $5,000, between himself and Mr. Hopkins, Each agreed not to institute a contest nor pursue the count further.

LIFE.

Life is a folded flower, and what it holds
We know not, till, unwinding leaf by leaf,
It shows God's secrets hidden in its folds
And bares its fragrant heart to vision brief—

For when its beauty and significance
Upon our earth-dulled senses breaks at last,
Back to its dust the flower turns; perchance
Ere we have learned its meaning life is past.
—Eleanor M. Denny, in Youth's Companion.

Under Authority.

A correspondent of the New York Sun was visiting a family in a suburb of San Francisco when their Chinese servant fell out of the window which he was cleaning and injured his back. He was taken care of by his countrymen, and sent another man to say that he was not seriously hurt, and would return to his work in a week.

"What you do, John?" the lady of the house asked the messenger.

"Me no work. Me go China some week. Me get a wife."

"Well, you stay here and do work, eh?"

"Oh, no," answered the Chinaman, his face expressing alarm at the proposition. "Yes; you stay and do Ah Fun's work while Ah Fun sick."

"Me no got China shoes," said the man, apparently hitting upon the only excuse he could express in English.

"Ah!" said the lady. "No got China shoes? Well, you go back to city; you get China shoes, you come back, go work for Ah Fun till Ah Fun come back."

"Me go city—get China shoe—all light," said the man, and off he went.

"Do you thing he will come back?" I asked.

"Oh, yes; he must come back. He understood me. They always do what they agree to."

He did return, and went to work. He cleaned the garden, got out the hose and watered the flowers, and then came in and began the preparation of dinner. But he seemed to have something on his mind. At last he spoke.

"See here, lady," said he, "me got bludder (brother) come China last week. Me put bludder in laundry. He want me come so he go San Flancisco city; no can find his way."

"Sorry," said the lady, "but we give dinner party to-night, and after dinner we have dance and refreshments, and you got stay and wait on people."

The Chinaman was kept there for four days. Once, as we all took our places in a carriage at the door, the patient fellow came out with his hat and coat on, evidently prepared to go to the city without authority. I was called upon to exert a masculine authority, and ordered him to go back. With the utmost meekness, merely saying, "All light," he shuffled into the house again.

It was and is my opinion that the poor wretch went every night to see his brother, and came back every day at daylight. What sleep he got, if any, I do not know, but it must have been very little.

Domestic Life in Paris.

Life in Paris means what it does in all large cities—the good and the bad—writes Edward W. Bok in a recent number of Ladies' Home Journal. The casual tourist sees, as a rule, only one side. As a race, the French are merry making people; their very natures seek and crave enjoyment. But their amusements are, therefore, not necessarily of an order below the ken of respectability. It has been my pleasure to see something of French domestic life, and to hear more of it from sources away from prejudice. The affection which exists between the French father and his daughter is beautiful and almost spirtual. Home and family means as much to him as it does to the resident of any other city under the sun. The French mother is not only a cook par excellence, but a perfect type of housekeeper. By nature she is quick, and she accomplishes much more with less exertion than does her English sister. The education of her children is as a gospel to her. Her religious faith is strong, and she instills it into her children at the domestic board and at eventide. The parents live out of doors, but it is rare, indeed, that you see children on the streets of Paris after reasonable hours. They are taught to find their chief amusements in the the home; and everything is done by the French father and mother to see that the home is attractive to their children. One of the most beautiful sights in the world is to see a well regulated French family, where you will find the atmosphere redolent with domesticity.

4,500,000 Years Hence.

A French geologist has made a careful calculation of the amount of solid matter yearly carried off into the ocean by the action of the rivers of the world and other causes. He estimates that the reduction of the average height of the surface of the solid lands is .006 inches each year. Making allowance for the corresponding rise in the bed of the ocean, and taking no account of the occurrence of volcanic and other exceptional phenomena—the general tendency of which is to hasten the process of disintegration—the period at which the solid land will have ceased to exist and the surface of the earth will be covered with water has been estimated. As, however, that period is 4,500,000 years distant, the prediction need cause no immediate disquietude. — Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette.

A New Explosive.

Ecrasite, a new explosive, is the invention of two Austrian engineers named Biersch and Kubin. Its power is stated to be in relation to dynamite as 100 to 70, and the new explosive is said to be capable of being carried from place to place with perfect safety. It emits a thick, black smoke, and the detonating noise is louder than that of gunpowder, but shorter, sharper, and clearer. A bombshell loaded with it explodes with such terrible results that experiments against palisades representing 100, 250, and 500 men, at ranges of 300, 750, and 1,200 meters, are said to have recorded marks on every division of the palisade standing for a soldier. No details of the composition of this new explosive are known, as the secret of the invention is being closely guarded by the Austro-Hungarian war office.

A STIRRING BUSINESS.

Yes, a regular revolution business, in which one sale helps to make another.

The people make us stir around to fill orders, and evidently believe we do a fair square business. Seeing we have such a large patronage too, convinces others they better try us, and so the trade increases. We're happy over it, and so are all our customers. The demand for our bread, cakes and candies (our own manufacture), is greater than ever, but we are ready to supply the demand. As the holidays are now coming on you will be thinking of Clear Toys. Give us a trial on these goods.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

Regular meeting of the school board held last Friday evening, November 6, with all members present. Orders were drawn for payment of teachers, janitors and sundry bills.

Committee on buildings and grounds reported that the steam heating apparatus in Third street building had been completely overhauled and almost a new one replaced, which will last for many years.

Robert Alexander, committee from Junior American Mechanics appeared and stated that they had fixed Friday November 20th as time for the presentation of flags to our public schools and they would make special arrangement for appropriate addresses upon that occasion. There will be representatives from the National Council, from the State Council, and various orders from this town and neighboring places will be here. The exercises will be held in the afternoon, in the open air, if favorable; if not, then in some public hall.

Principal Sterner appeared and made statement that there were a few habitual truants that needed some vigorous treatment. The matter was left in the Principal's care with instructions to use every effort to prevent truantism. The two literary societies, through the principal made a request for space in the public library to supply with books. These two socities are now receiving 2cts a week from each member. The contributions are entirely voluntary. Several dollars are contributed each week, which will soon make a good begining for the public library.

Attention was called to the matter of contagious diseases, and it was urged that the attention of physicians be called to the town ordinance which requires that all physicians shall notify the board of health of any existing contagion, to prevent its spread.

Attention was called to the resolution of a month previous which states that no teacher shall absent themselves from their duties, without first asking permission of the principal who shall refer the matter to the Board of directors.

A friend induced me to try Salvation Oil for my rheumatic foot, I used it and the rheumatism is entirely gone. JOHN H. ANDERSON, Baltimore, Md.

Positive and unsolicited testimony from every section confirms every claim made for the wonderful efficacy of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price 25 cents.

AN INCREASED VOTE.

The democrats of Columbia County can feel proud over the vote polled at the late election. In 1887, for Auditor General and State Treasurer there were 2876 democratic and 1561 republican votes—a majority of 1315. In 1889 there were 2426 democratic and 1187 republican—a majority of 1239 The present year there were 3664 democratic and 1888 republican, a democratic majority of 1776. The State Treasurer receiving a majority of 1824. It will thus be seen that the democratic majority increased fifty per cent over two years ago. When we consider the limited means that Chairman Townsend had to get out the vote, and the few workers that he could get interested, we have great reason to rejoice over our increased vote. Columbia county still ranks among the banner counties.

POULTRY NOTES.

No. 37.

Fowls that are confined should have green food every day.

Milk is very good as an egg producer, if you have any to spare try it.

Have you collected a good supply of road dust for your fowls this winter? If not there is time yet.

Your poultry house is not complete without a trough to feed the soft feed in. Make it so it can be cleaned easily.

When a fowl has become profitless it is time to dispose of it, by either selling or killing it. It does not pay to feed grain to a worthless hen.

Did it ever strike you that all hens do not lay the same number of eggs? It is a fact, even if they are all one kind, and if you are wise and carefully looking after your future income you will sort out your best layers to breed from.

W. B. GERMAN.

Both air and water abound in microbes, or germs of disease, ready to infect the debiliated system. To impart that strength and vigor necessary to resist the effect of these pernicious atoms, no tonic blood-purifier equals Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

ECLIPSE OF THE MOON.

There will be a total eclipse of the moon Sunday evening, November 15. The moon enters the shadow at 5:34, total eclipse begins at 6:36, middle of the eclipse 7:18, total eclipse ends 8:00, passes out of shadow 9:12. The moon will rise in this section at 6:09, therefore we will get a fine view of the eclipse. It is seldom an eclipse of the moon occurs so early in the evening when all can have an opportunity to view it.

YOUR COUGH

Has not yielded to the various remedies you have been taking. It troubles you day and night, breaks your rest and reduces your strength. Now try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, before the bronchial tubes become enlarged or the delicate tissues of the lungs sustain fatal injury. As an anodyne and expectorant, this preparation has no equal. It soothes the irritated membrane, promotes expectoration, and induces repose. The worst cough by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Dr. J. G. Gordon, Carrol Co., Va., writes: "I use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my practice, and pronounce it to be unequaled as a remedy for colds and coughs."

"After the grippe—cough. This was my experience—a hacking, dry cough, with an incessant tickling in the throat, keeping me awake nights, and disturbing the household. I tried a great number of 'cough-cures,' but they gave me only temporary relief. At last I concluded to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and before I had used half a bottle, I had my first all-night sleep. I continued to improve, and now consider myself cured."—A. A. Sherman, Coeymans, N. Y.

By Using

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, many have been saved from fatal illness.

E. D. Estabrooks, Canterbury, N. B., says: "In the winter of 1859 I was a surveyor of lumber in Sacramento, Cal. Being considerably exposed, I took a bad cold accompanied with a terrible cough. I tried several remedies, but they failed to cure me, and it was thought I was going into a decline. On the advice of a friend, I began to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and less than half a bottle completely cured me."

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

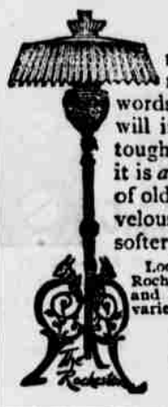
And a good lamp



must be simple; when it is not simple it is not good. Simple, Beautiful, Good—these words mean much, but to see "The Rochester" will impress the truth more forcibly. All metal, tough and seamless, and made in three pieces only, it is absolutely safe and unbreakable. Like Aladdin's of old, it is indeed a "wonderful lamp," for its marvelous light is purer and brighter than gas light, softer than electric light and more cheerful than either.

WORLD'S FAIR NOTES.

Mexico has made a World's Fair appropriation of $50,000. This is only preliminary, however, and it is fully expected that the whole of $750,000, which were asked for, and perhaps more, will be voted.

Henri Moser, of France, wants to rent, for $10,000, a collection of relics from Central Asia, the result of five expeditions to that country. He values the collection at $40,000 and says it contains a large assortment, from firearms to embroideries and groups of statuary, all gifts of the sovereigns of Atia.

The residents of Equador have ordered that a complete display of women's work shall be prepared for the Fair. This is to include a collection of gold and silver braid work, woven straw, and other novelties. Two or three women may be sent to Chicago to take charge of the display.

British Guiana has appointed its Royal Agricultural and Commercial Society a Commission to represent the Colony, and has appropriated $20,000 for an exhibit. President B. Howell Jones, of the Commission, has been made its executive officer. A space of 60 x 30 feet has been requested near that assigned to the Dominion of Canada and other British-American colonies, so that a contrast may be made between their exhibits and those of the Latin-American countries.

Hassan Ben Ali, of Morocco, is seeking a concession to make a Morocco exhibit at the Exposition. He says he will spend $50,000 in showing the people, manners, customs, amusements, etc., of his country and in bringing to Chicago a tribe of Berbers.

Bald heads are too many when they may be covered with a luxuriant growth of hair by using the best of all restorers, Hall's Hair Renewer.

William Lively aged 14 years who was kicked by a mule at the Bloomsburg Lock Oct. 12, had his skull fractured and a piece of bone 1 x 2½ inches driven into his brain. An operation was performed and the piece of bone removed from the brain, thereby exposing the brain matter about 1½ by 2½ inches. The boy remained in an unconscious condition for over two weeks and last Thursday, Nov. 5th he uttered the first word for three long weeks. He has now recovered so that he can talk rationally. His left side is partially paralyzed but it is hoped by the time the wound is healed that he will regain the use of his limbs. The boy says that he is very thankful for the kindness he has received from Mr. and Mrs. Hoover and the citizens of Bloomsburg. His father Samuel Lively, has been by his side for the last week and will take his son home in a few days.

The best medical authorities say the proper way to treat catarrh is to take a constitutional remedy, like Hood's Sarsaparilla.
